Talk

When I decided to start my business, I invited 24 friends to my home and told them that I'm preparing to do a thing called the Internet. They listened to me for about two hours, and nobody could understand what I was talking about. We then decided to vote. 23 people voted against and the only one said I should give it a try. Of course, no matter what people think, we decided to start our businesses. We didn't have the qualifications that young people do nowadays. People thought that we were unlikely to succeed, but we have been here around for 15 years and are here today. Of course, before the establishment of Alibaba Group 15 years ago, I worked on China Yellow Pages for 4 years and worked for the Ministry of Foreign Trade and Economic Cooperation for 13 months. In fact, the mistakes that we have made were many more than you could imagine. When we, 18 founders of the company, started our business at my home, I gave everyone my view: If we could succeed, 80% of the young people in China could succeed. But in the 8th month, we ran out of money and nobody felt optimistic about us. We were rejected by more than 30 venture funds. No one thought it's a good plan except us. That's one of the reasons why I don't really write business plans because they were all rejected. It's not important to have a plan. The most important thing is that you believe in what you are doing.

11. What did the speaker plan to do?

- 1) Running 24-hour businesses.
- 2) Running Yellow Pages businesses.
- 3) Running Chinese venture funds.

13. How long have the speaker's business been running?

- 1) Fifteen years
- 2) Eight months
- 3) Thirteen months
- 4) Eighty percent of the time

14. These are the working experience of the speaker except _____.
- 1) Starting businesses at home.
 - 2) Working on China Yellow Pages.
 - 3) Working at the venture fund company.
 - 4) Working for the Ministry of Foreign Trade and Economic Cooperation.
15. Why didn't he write business plans?
- 1) He started his business at home.
 - 2) He gave everyone his view on success.
 - 3) He was rejected by more than 30 venture funds.
 - 4) He worked for the Ministry of Foreign Trade and Economic Cooperation.

Passage 2

Box Jelly Fish

The infamous box jellyfish developed its frighteningly powerful venom to instantly stun or kill prey, like fish and shrimp, so their struggle to escape wouldn't damage its delicate tentacles.

Their venom is considered to be among the most deadly in the world, containing toxins that attack the heart, nervous system, and skin cells. It is so overpoweringly painful, human victims have been known to go into shock and drown or die of heart failure before even reaching shore. Survivors can experience considerable pain for weeks and often have significant scarring where the tentacles made contact.

Box jellies, also called sea wasps and marine stingers, live primarily in coastal waters off Northern Australia and throughout the Indo-Pacific. They are pale blue and transparent in color and get their name from the cube-like shape of their bell.

Up to 15 tentacles grow from each corner of the bell and can reach 10 feet in length. Each tentacle has about 5,000 stinging cells, which are triggered not by touch but by the presence of a chemical on the outer layer of its prey.

Highly-Advanced Adaptations

Box jellies are highly advanced among jellyfish. They have developed the ability to move rather than just drift, jetting at up to four knots through the water. They also have eyes grouped in clusters of six on the four sides of their bell. Each cluster includes a pair of eyes with a sophisticated lens, retina, iris and cornea, although without a central nervous system, scientists aren't sure how they process what they see.

45. Which part of the box jelly fish is the most harmful in the world?

- 1) Jelly
- 2) Venom
- 3) Skin
- 4) Tentacles

46. Which organism is not affected box jelly fish's toxins?

- 1) Eyes
- 2) Heart
- 3) Skin cell
- 4) Nervous system

47. The box jellies are also called as _____.

- 1) Sea wasps
- 2) Marine stings
- 3) Human victims
- 4) Coastal waters

48. The word, "tentacles" means _____.

- 1) the box jellyfish's toxins
- 2) the box jellyfish's stinging cells
- 3) long thin parts of the box jellyfish
- 4) powerful venoms of the box jellyfish

49. What is the synonym of the word, “transparent”?

- 1) airy
- 2) bright
- 3) sparse
- 4) see-through

50. Which issue about box jellyfish do the scientists have unclear idea about?

- 1) How the venoms of box jellyfish work
- 2) How the box jellyfish survive under the water
- 3) How dangerous the box jellyfish is for humans
- 4) How the box jellyfish see other things in the world
